

AGING WATER of flood-swollen Hells Bells Creek on Highway 16 east, wiped out this bridge Sunday night. A Bailey bridge section was installed and traffic restored at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Flash Floods Create Havoc

Department of Highways crews are breathing a little easier today after one of the worst series of flash floods ever to hit the Terrace-Kitimat area, cut off highways leading to Kitimat and Hazelton at the weekend.

The trouble began Sunday evening when heavy rain increased to heavier rain and settled in for an all night deluge.

At about 11 p.m. the southern approach to the Williams Creek bridge on Highway 25 was under 2 feet of water for a distance of a quarter mile. One lane of the pavement was washed away for a distance of some 150 feet and the shoulder section of the road was completely lost between the bridge and the picnic site entrance.

Highway patrol crews and RCMP sped to the scene to warn off motorists and the road was eventually closed to all traffic.

Repair crews had it re-opened to one-way traffic by 4 p.m. Monday and it is now open for two-way traffic at restricted speeds.

The old Williams Creek bridge on Lakelse road also suffered severe damage in the flood. The road from Kitimat to Minette Bay and from there to Kitimaat Village was extensively damaged. Department of Highways officials were assessing the damages today.

On Highway 16 East the rain took its toll when Hells Bells creek went on the rampage and ripped out a highway bridge. Traffic was restored Tuesday night at 10:30 after a 100 foot Bailey bridge section had been rushed into installation at the scene.

Road crews and telephone and hydro linemen worked feverishly to restore all services on Monday and Tuesday. Long distance telephone circuits to Kitimat from Terrace were out of order for several hours.

District Superintendent of Highways J. P. O'Toole said today that flash flooding problems are on the increase in this area and he partially attributed this to the decline of hillside timber, due to logging operations.

Trees have a natural tendency to stop water flow, and in areas where hillsides have been cleared of all timber the danger of flooding is increased considerably.

O'Toole said he is presently preparing estimates as to the costs of putting in shotrock diking and riprap protection along upstream sections of all creeks crossing highways in the area, in an effort to ensure against future occurrences of a similar nature.

HARD HIT BY FLOOD WATER during the weekend deluge was the Municipality of Kitimat where tidewater and heavy rains caused the Kitimat river to overflow onto streets and into buildings in the city's Service Centre area.

DEC. 10 ELECTION

Returning Officer Sought

December 10 has been set aside as Municipal Election day in Terrace and nominations will close at noon on November 28. However, Municipal Council has run into a snag in efforts to appoint a returning officer.

In an attempt to obtain the services of someone not connected directly with the District Municipality for the job, Council approached Murdoch Macdonald on Tuesday night. Mr. Macdonald declined the offer due to his own business commitments.

The Municipal personnel committee was scheduled to meet with Municipal Assessor Wm. Reid today to decide whether he might be able to take on the responsibility of returning officer. At press time the committee recommendations had not been made available.

On Municipal Council there will be three regular two-year terms vacant as Councillors Tupper, French and Norton end their office. Councillors Norton and French have not yet indicated whether they plan to stand for re-election and Councillor Tupper resigned his office earlier this year when he became ineligible for office through a property sale.

The remaining portion of ex-Councillor Floyd Frank's term will be up for bid in December also. One year remains in the term following Mr. Frank's resignation last month.

Two Terrace School Board Trustees must be named in December when chairman of the board Jack Cook, and trustee Dr. R. E. M. Lee reach the end of their terms.

A $435,000 hospital improvement referendum and a $2,710,000 school building referendum are also on the slate for approval or disapproval. A third referendum which calls for approval to purchase a new Municipal fire truck, a new road grader and a compressor will be readied for presentation as well, but the amount of this third referendum has not yet been determined.

Melting Pot . . .

DID YOU KNOW that members of the Terrace Auxiliary Police force are working as many as 56 hours a week to help protect the community from all the things that communities need to be protected from? Our bouquet this week goes out to these fellows — none of whom receive any remuneration for their voluntary services.

OUR SECOND BOUQUET goes out to Department of Highways crews and to telephone and hydro linemen for getting everything restored to normal after the Big Rain.

OFFICIAL CENSUS FIGURES haven't been released yet but we'll make a wild guess that they will be soon, and that they'll show Terrace to have a population of approximately 3800!

RUCE SMITH of Lakelse Lake reports that trumpeter swans have returned to the lake and arns hunters that trumpeters, which are almost extinct, are absolutely "off limits" to hunters so — No Shooting Please!

IT'S NICE to have loyal subscribers like Mr. Ross Thompson of Terrace. Mr. Thompson finally made our complimentary subscription list this week and believe you us — he deserved it. He has been a steady subscriber to the Terrace Omineca Herald for FIFTY YEARS. Thanks Mr. Thompson — it's people like you who make us feel great!

OUR THIRD BOUQUET goes out to Irene's Coffee Shop in the Super-Value Shopping Centre. Nice place to stop for a mug-up now that it's been remodelled. Good cup of coffee too!

WHAT'S ALL THIS JAZZ about things being shaky in the timber industry? Everybody knows the timber industry is here to stay, and nobody knows it better than the men who have been laid off during the past four weeks. Anybody for mining? Would you believe farming? How about plain old-fashioned whittling, combined with unemployment insurance? Come on Big Daddy — let's have a press release to stem some of the rumours!

Underpass Proposal To CNR For Approval

Preliminary proposals for the extension of Greig Avenue and the construction of a railway underpass at Tetrault Street, will go forth to the CNR for their approval following a special meeting between Municipal Council, the Advisory Planning Commission, and representatives of Willis & Cunliffe Engineering on Wednesday, October 19.

The meeting was called to hear engineers' findings in the matter of the feasibility of such a project and to study drainage and seepage reports prepared by the firm in an effort to determine whether the proposed railway crossing should be an underpass or an overpass.

Joe Cunliffe explained that tests have shown the plan to be feasible for the construction of four driving lanes, each 12 feet wide and one six-foot walkway, all under the rail structure as well as five driving lanes, each 12 feet wide for most of the distance of Greig Avenue.

The Greig roadway would include a centre lane for all the necessary turns proposed, as well as a walkway for the full distance.

Estimated costs of the project were not given pending receipt of further information from the CNR. However, it was pointed out that an underpass structure would likely be less expensive than an overpass.

Drainage of an underpass at Tetrault was reported possible through gravity flow storm sewers to Keith then to Sunset Drive and from there to the open ditch.

The railway structure is proposed for one line only and will be designed by the CNR.

Council authorized the administration to proceed with land negotiations for the project, obtaining assistance from Willis & Cunliffe Engineering wherever and whenever necessary.

Estimate Given For Traffic Light

Cost of installing automatic traffic signal lights at the corner of Lakelse and Emerson has been estimated at $4,500 by the Dept. of Highways, it was learned here Tuesday night in a Municipal Council session.

The cost estimate covers steel posts and underground wiring.

Department of Highways sharing of the cost is dependent upon results of a traffic count carried out recently at the corner. Before the Department will participate in the financing of the installation, traffic volume must be at a specific point.

Resolution Tabled In H-Hut Dispute

A resolution which would outlaw the moving of houses or partial houses into the Municipality from outside areas, was turned over to the Municipal Building committee for study and recommendations following its introduction to Council Tuesday evening.

The resolution stemmed from recent troubles experienced with unhappy home owners in the Gair Avenue area where two Kitimat H huts have been placed within the past two months.

Both buildings were allowed into the Municipality on the premise they would be brought up to a specified standard in compliance with National and Municipal building codes, but Gair Avenue neighbours objected to the move and appealed to Council for some action to prevent the practice.

Councillor Dorothy Norton said Tuesday she did not wish to rush into a decision in the matter and would prefer to study both sides of the picture before casting a vote.

The District Municipality of Kitimat does not allow the H huts from the Anderson Creek area to be moved inside Kitimat limits, but Terrace thus far has no such regulation.

Whoa-a there . . .

Municipal Council almost ram-rodged a resolution through on Tuesday night that could have had repercussions had it not been for some careful thinking on the part of Councillor Dorothy Norton.

The lady councillor wasn't about to be bamboozled into any hasty action regarding the Kitimat "H"-Hut question before she's had an opportunity to study all facets of the problem.

Could it be that Councillor Norton is aware of the critical housing shortage that exists in Terrace at the moment? Could it be that Councillor Norton actually chooses to place a little faith in the word of her fellow man? Could it be that Councillor Norton is more concerned with giving a person an even break when he's trying to provide an economical and decent home for his family than she is with upholding mortgage-ridden pockets of pseudo-prosperity within the Municipal boundaries?

We don't know what prompted her to put the stop signals up, but we do think this resolution is a hasty resolution and one that surely deserves a closer look.

In the first place, the Kitimat "H" huts which have started to sprout up in Terrace, have been declared structurally sound. They are not seedy construction shacks and they can be re-constructed to any standard that Terrace might care to offer. We'll concede they look a little shaky when they're first unloaded onto a lot after the long haul from Kitimat but this is just a temporary thing. Anyone who doubts this has only to make a short trip over to Thornhill and view the tremendous renovation job done on Kitimat buildings by Quality Construction Ltd. (No—it isn't a plug. We don't even know the people!)

Other members of Municipal Council said Tuesday night they would welcome the restrictive resolution which would virtually outlaw the moving into Terrace of any building or partial building for the purpose of reconstruction. They said they've been trying to get such legislation through for over four years. It's possible. We've seen other legislation delayed for as long a period!

There's another way to skin this cat. If the buyer of a Kitimat building wishes to move it onto a Terrace lot he should be required to post a performance bond. Then his neighbors will have a little leverage if he fails to bring the place up to an attractive and sanitary standard.

Even further out is the impoundment process, whereby failure to complete the building to a decent standard would automatically forfeit the property to the Municipality which in turn could then finish it and use it as rental accommodation for some of our housing-pressed Municipal employees or policemen. Either way, the neighbours are protected against shack-town development.

We're not taking sides in this fight. We're merely pointing out that outlawing the process is ridiculous when there is such a gross housing shortage in this community.

Let's have a few second thoughts on this one, Councillors. It's true Terrace has homes valued as high as $30,000. Many of them are empty — waiting for some desperate soul to drown himself in an impossible mortgage.

It's also true that Terrace has poverty-pockets where people live, not through choice, but through sheer necessity. Re-constructed Kitimat "H" huts or any such similar structures could help bridge the gap, provided they are regulated through reasonable legislation.

Anything less than that would have to be termed discriminatory.

Arena Association Elects Jim Warner

Forty people were present at the annual meeting of Terrace Arena Association Tuesday night in the Community Centre and joined in the lively discussions that ensued.

President Wayne Seabrook was in the chair and gave a comprehensive report of the financial progress to date, of the proposed $300,000 arena for Terrace.

A number of suggestions for fund raising were brought forward including a voluntary payroll deduction plan. Under this plan employees would be asked to agree to a minimum payroll deduction of approximately $2.00 per month for a period of two years. Mr. Seabrook reported that a number of the larger businesses had been approached and seemed "not unfavorable to the action."

It was felt that an all-out membership drive would help to stimulate interest. Mrs. Nan Harrison agreed to take charge of the drive and several others volunteered their help.

The pros and cons of employing a paid-administrator were discussed. For three years the association has been working on a voluntary basis but the job of raising money was a big one. One opinion expressed was "you must spend money to make money." Retiring president Seabrook pointed out that although much groundwork has been laid, the major problem of raising money through public donation, had yet to be faced and successfully completed.

The membership elected eleven directors from which the directors themselves appointed their officers. The result is the following slate: Jim Warner, president; Wayne Seabrook, vice-president; Dick Green, secretary; Harold Smith, treasurer and other directors — Mrs. B. Van Westen, Mrs. Vesta Douglas, Mitch Kohl, Al Purschke, Ed Stannick, Jules Perry and Lloyd Sigurdson.

On behalf of Terrace Lions Club, Jules Perry announced a $500 donation to the Arena Association, much of this money had been derived from a Lion's car raffle.

DIRECTORS MET

Following the close of the general meeting the newly elected directors met briefly. They decided to seek approval from the general membership at the next meeting November 29, of the voluntary payroll deduction plan, and also decided to consider the employing of a "fund-raising administrator." Notification of a proposed change in the by-laws, to allow the association to do this, will be circulated to current members within the next few days.

The Arena Association will now meet on the fourth Tuesday of every month.

The Boys Scout pavilion at Expo 67 will be a giant multicolored tent. Around it and beside a small artificial lake, Scouts will demonstrate their skills, including the art of bush survival.

Christmas Ideas Aired By W.I.

Many very good ideas for Christmas items were presented, at the October meeting of the first Terrace Women's Institute, by the ten ladies in attendance. Afternoon work bees will be organized where ideas and materials will be exchanged.

As next month's meeting will be the annual, no special program is planned. This meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 16 at the home of Mrs. Flora Clausen, 4918 Halliwell.

Winner of the monthly raffle was Mrs. Jean Foote.

Mrs. Beryl Peterson attended a meeting of the Bulkley-Tweedsmuir District Board held at the home of the district president, Mrs. Ivy Strimbold at Topley on Sunday, October 23rd and will give a short report on this at the next meeting.

Chamber Requests Community Chest

The Council of Terrace and District Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon meeting Tuesday instructed the secretary to write to the District Municipality pointing out the importance of having a co-ordination of groups for the purpose of fund raising. The resolution followed a discussion in which it was felt there were too many individual groups and organizations campaigning for funds, and some were over-lapping.

A committee was set up to spearhead an all-candidates meeting prior to the municipal election in December.

Prince Rupert To be Home Of October Bride and Groom

A pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Matthew's Anglican church on October 15 at 2 p.m. when Patrick Norman Lindseth took as his bride Catherine Deir-Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Orr of Terrace.

The Reverend A. P. Horsfield officiated at the ceremony. Neil Lindseth was best man and ushers were James Orr and Ronald Currie. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a two-piece white wedding gown of embroidered silk brocade. She wore a long matching brocade on her shoulders from which fell a misty, finger-length veil. She wore a pearl drop pendant, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and red roses.

Her only attendant was Susan Edbridge, who was charming in a A-line empire waisted dress of shimmering pastel green, peacock elegance. Her headpiece was a mesh of matching material and she wore white and gold chrysanthemums.

The reception followed in the quiet room of the Lakelse Motor Hotel. For receiving the guests the bride's mother wore a two-piece suit of pale blue knitted fabric, with pink accessories. She was assisted by the groom's mother who chose a dress of black and white metallic knit with matching accessories.

The toast to the bride was proposed by William Bryant of Smithers and responded to by the groom. Mr. Bryant acted as master of ceremonies for the evening and read telegrams of congratulations from Scotland, England and Victoria.

MR. AND MRS. PATRICK N. LINDSETH

bride wore a smart smoky brown coat with fur collar over a blue cotton boucle dress and matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindseth will make their home in Prince Rupert.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Bryant, Smithers; Mr. and Mrs. Norris Elphick and son Harry, Creston; Mr. and Mrs. H. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. K. Rysstad and family, Ron Currie, Mrs. Lena Amoth, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lindseth, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lindseth, Mrs. P. Iversen (grandmother of the groom), and Mrs. Rensvold, all of Prince Rupert; Mr. and Mrs. J. Lindseth, Killam, Alberta; Miss Catherine Dechaine, Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. E. Noreen, Ketchikan, Alaska; Mrs. Louise Hutchings and daughter Shirley, Stewart and Jim Orr from Victoria University.

Murphys Honored Prior To Departure

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clifford Murphy were honored guests at a party in the Lakelse banquet room last Friday evening when about sixty friends gathered to wish them well as they leave this week to make their home in Vancouver.

Mr. Murphy, who has been manager of the Terrace branch of the Bank of Montreal for four and a half years, has been transferred to the inspector's department of the bank, head office Montreal. Mr. Murphy will be working out of the general manager's department in Vancouver, where the family will make their home.

A most enjoyable evening was spent on Friday and the honored guests were presented with matched silver candlesticks. Fred Adames made the presentation and expressed regret that Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and family were leaving the community, and wished them well in their new location in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, Kathy and Paddy-Ann will leave tomorrow by car for the south. They will be missed in the community.

FUNNY FACES (Cheese 'n Pizza on Buns)

Hallowe'en with goblins, ghosts and witches making strange shadows in the evening twilight, had its origin many years ago in an ancient medieval festival. To appease the ghosts that walked on the Hallowed Evening of All Souls Day, folks got together for feasting and song, and to eat little "soul cakes" which they collected from house to house. Today's youthful "ghosts" and "goblins" in hundreds of Canadian communities imitate the ancient custom by ringing neighbourhood doorbells and performing "tricks for treats." Just in case you're planning a special celebration for family or guests at this time of year cheese 'n pizza on buns or enriched bread slices makes wholesome eating to appease perked-up appetites.

"FUNNY FACES" . . . (Cheese 'n Pizza on Buns) . . . 12 servings
 1 cup (1/2 pound) ground beef
 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
 1/3 cup tomato paste
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon ground oregano
 6 hamburger or sandwich buns
 12 slices Canadian process cheese
 Combine ground beef, onion, tomato paste, salt and oregano to make meat mixture. Spread 2 tablespoons pizza over cut side of each bun half. Place buns on baking sheet and brown in a hot oven (400°F.) for 12-15 minutes. While these are baking, cut smiling faces in the cheese slices . . . just as you do in your Jack-O-Lantern . . . using a sharp paring knife. Place a "Cheese Face" slice over the browned meat on each bun. Return all to the oven for one or two minutes . . . just until the cheese begins to soften . . . but not long enough to spoil the face features. Serve hot . . .

Coaches Return From Swim Clinic

Recently returned from a coaching clinic in the art of synchronized swimming are Terrace swim coaches Mrs. W. Macintyre and Miss Dale Pruden.

The clinic was sponsored by the Western Regional Synchronized Swimming Association and was held at Simon Fraser University and at the Villa Motel in Vancouver.

The three day clinic featured special guest Mrs. J. Howell of California, as well as two champion synchro-swimmers from that state, both of whom performed several demonstration water ballets for visiting delegates. Representatives attended from the four Western provinces as well as from the state of Washington.

Part of the expenses for the trip to Vancouver by the two Terrace coaches was met by the B.C. Fitness Council and the remainder paid by the Terrace Swim Club.

Synchronized swimming, or water ballet, as it is sometimes termed, is a relatively new project in Terrace, and at the moment there are four girls of high school age training in the art. Mrs. Macintyre, who came to Terrace in March is an experienced ballet swimmer having taken part in many displays in her hometown of Vancouver.

She said this week that she hopes the Terrace swimmers will be ready for a public performance by early spring of 1967 and pointed out that she will soon be recruiting new swimmers to take part in the project. The Terrace group trains one evening a week at Skoglund's Hot Springs.

Libraries Shocking Says Director

Delegates to a library trustee conference in Prince George recently heard northwest libraries termed "shocking and shameful" by special guest, Fred White, Vancouver Island regional library director.

He told delegates that the average association library falls into this category. Quoting from the Provincial report, he showed how some libraries buy only one book for every 50 persons a year, regardless of how heavily subsidized they are by the provincial government.

"Libraries should be brought up to standard through co-operation in regions, by electing excellent members to the Board for policy making and by having adequate paid staff," White said.

He also stated, "Library service is not free. It should be supported by the taxpayers in the same manner as are the schools."

Among those attending the meeting were Mrs. Hazel Cambrin and Mrs. Pem van Heek of Terrace.

A soft answer turneth a wrath.

Farm Forum . . .

District Agriculturist,
C. Department of Agriculture,
Smithers, B.C.

Did you ever feed a supposedly pregnant cow all winter, only to see her fail to drop a calf in the spring? It isn't an uncommon occurrence.

A growing number of farmers are turning to pregnancy testing to combat this problem. It makes sense when a veterinarian is within a practical working distance of your farm, assuming you're running a sizeable cow-calf operation. Dick Feliuss, Provincial Veterinarian, Williams Lake, puts it this way:

The annual cost of keeping a cow varies but an average of $85.00 per cow would be a reasonable figure. This includes fence, labour etc. Let's assume that the cost of wintering a cow is $100.

The cost of producing one calf in a 100 per cent calf crop in the herd would be $85.00. However, the average calf crop in North America is close to 85 per cent. Therefore this increases the cost of a calf crop by

$100 \times $85.00 = \100.00

The cost of producing a calf can be lowered through pregnancy examination of the herd. There is generally a pregnancy rate of 87 per cent which gives a calf crop of approximately 85 per cent because of a 2 per cent loss due to abortions, embryonic deaths, etc. This means that it would be possible for the rancher to take a market, those animals still open, that is 13 per cent or 13 cows out of 100, and save feeding them through the winter.

The cost of feeding non pregnant animals is about the same. Let's assume it costs $80.00 to feed a cow through the winter. For the 13 open animals this would amount to $780.00 per year. This would be offset by a value of gain approximately $20.00 per cow, leaving a saving of $760.00 - $260.00 = $500.00, if cows are examined for pregnancy and shipped. The saving of feed can either be used to feed the rest of the herd if there is a shortage, or replacement animals can be bought."

So there you are. The figures used may not agree with yours but the general idea is sound, particularly if you're entering winter with a short feed supply. The usual charge per cow is $1.00. Depending of course, on your situation, it could be a $1.00 well spent! Best time to have it done? — 10 weeks to 3 months after a 3 month breeding season. That will be about now for many.

The theme of the Jewish Community of Canada pavilion at Expo 67 will be "Judaism Universal, Judaism Eternal." It will present the image of the Jews as a world-wide religious and cultural community geographically, and eternally in the sense of being a people who survived intact from ancient times to the present.

WHAT'S IN A HOUSE

WATER-PROOFING

Water-proofing is necessary below grade for basement or cellar walls whether they be constructed of unit masonry or poured concrete. Water proofing is done by applying an asphalt emulsion to the exterior face of the wall from the top of the footing to grade level. To assist the water-proofing, drain tile is laid around the perimeter of the house. This tile is laid so that the top of the tile is below the basement or cellar floor. The tiles are spaced 1/4" to 3/8" apart, with the top half of this space covered by a strip of 15 pound asphalt or tar saturated felt. The "weeping tiles" are then covered by a six inch layer of clean coarse gravel. This drainage system prevents water from accumulating about the foundations.

The water collected by the weeping tile can be disposed of in various ways. For instance the water can be discharged into a sewer, sump and the basement or perhaps in a soak away pit. Should a high water table exist in the land where the house has to be sited, the problem of waterproofing will be greatly increased and care must be exercised when doing so. When granular soils are saturated with water and the water is trapped, this is called "hydrostatic pressure." Drainage to relieve such water pressure should be carried out.

double your money with Canada Savings Bonds Centennial Series

Centennial Series Canada Savings Bonds offer you their highest interest yield ever—5.48% a year when held to maturity.

The new Bonds pay annual interest at the rate of 5% for each of the first four years; 5 1/4% for each of the next three years; 5 3/4% for the following year and 6% for each of the last five years—a total of $72.25 in interest on every $100 Bond.

And for the first time, there is a special compound interest option. To take full advantage of it, leave all the annual interest uncollected until Nov. 1, 1979, and you will get interest on your interest, amounting to $27.75 extra on every $100 Bond.

It all adds up to total interest of $100 on every $100 Bond. It's a safe, sure way to save. DOUBLE YOUR MONEY with Canada Savings Bonds Centennial Series.

This Series retains all the traditional features which make Canada Savings Bonds Canada's most favoured investment.

They are still easy to buy for cash or on instalments where you work, bank or invest.

You may buy as little as $50 or as much as $10,000. Every Canadian resident may buy up to this limit. So can estates.

They are still simple to cash, anytime, at any bank in Canada for their full face value plus earned interest. Just fill out the redemption form on the Bond, present it to your bank and you'll get your money right away.

And now they're better than ever to keep with the highest interest yield ever and interest on interest. DOUBLE YOUR MONEY with Canada Savings Bonds Centennial Series.

A CENTENNIAL FEATURE

Our Founders . . .

COL. RICHARD CLEMENT MOODY

Pistol balls whined past the stalwart officer and his force of 20 soldiers and sailors at Yale in February, 1859. He had come to show the flag to rebellious gold miners and the reception was aimed at scaring him away. But Col. Richard Clement Moody, Royal Engineer, stood and raised his cap and thanked the toughs for their exuberant greeting and won cheers for his boldness. The trouble evaporated.

Colonel Moody and his 165 men had come from England 'round the Horn' late in 1858 in consequence of Governor James Douglas having asked for military protection for his new colony. Born into the army in 1813 in the Barbadoes, Col. Moody had served earlier in the Indies, The Falklands, at Malta and in England.

Colonel Moody chose the site for the capital of British Columbia, New Westminster and as Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works directed the sappers as they laid out the roads and trails that opened the colony; designed the first churches and school at New Westminster. He organized a building society and set up the first observatory, library and printing office.

When his detachment of the Royal Engineers was disbanded in 1863 many of his men remained to become pioneer citizens, but Moody himself returned to England where he died in 1887. Port Moody honours the name of one who contributed so greatly to the founding of British Columbia.

—B.C. Centennial Committee

The day-by-day construction of a 47-foot schooner will be a feature of the Atlantic Provides pavilion during Expo 67. When completed at the end of the Exhibition, it will be launched and sold to the highest bidder.

Health Tips

SCURVY

Scurvy, a disease of infants which results from a lack of Vitamin C, is surprisingly quite common in some parts of Canada, the Canadian Medical Association reports.

Scurvy, which generally shows itself at the average of seven to 12 months, is preventable and does not occur in the breast-fed infant. The baby with scurvy usually shows increasing irritability and severe tenderness of the limbs. Often the infant will cry in great pain when picked up and even screams if approached by anyone.

When suffering from the disease, the child's gums become swollen and tender and show some bleeding into the tissues. This causes pain and the baby may refuse his feeding, often crying with hunger, yet unable to eat.

Scurvy is easily cured and easily prevented. Any vitamin supplement for infants, such as orange juice or tomato juice contains enough Vitamin C in each daily dose to prevent it.

There will soon be tinned milk available in the stores which not only contain adequate amount of Vitamin D, but will also be fortified with adequate amount of Vitamin C.

The C.M.A. advises mothers use this newer milk for all their young children, and soon there will be no more scurvy.

Alcan Declared Quarterly Dividend

The Directors of Alcan Aluminum Limited have declared a quarterly dividend of 42 cents share in Canadian currency on 4-1/4 per cent Cumulative Redeemable Convertible Preferred Shares of $40 par value, payable January 15th, 1967 to preferred shareholders of record at the close of business December 31st, 1966.

A quarterly dividend on Common Shares of the Company was declared at the rate of 22 1/2 cents per share, U.S. funds, payable December 5th, 1966, to shareholders of record at the close of business November 4th, 1966. Common dividend has been a quarterly rate of 22 1/2 cents share since December of 1965.

The number of Alcan Aluminum Limited Common Shares issued and outstanding at September 30th, 1966, was 31,136,598.

B.C. Weeklies In Annual Session

Federal cabinet minister John Turner will be a feature speaker at the annual convention of the B.C. Weekly Newspapers Association in Hotel Vancouver October 27-29.

Editors and publishers from all parts of the province will be in Vancouver for three days of business meetings and discussions. Delegates and their wives will arrive for the opening function on the evening of October 26. Mrs. Catherine Fraser, publisher of the Herald is attending.

Mayor William Rathie of Vancouver and Dr. Gordon Shrum co-chairman of B.C. Hydro and Power Authority will be speakers at the opening luncheon on October 27. Turner will address the annual banquet on the following evening.

Other convention highlights will include talks on the advertising dollar by M. J. O'Brien, president of O'Brien Advertising; a pioneer weekly newspaper publishing by Bruce Ramsay, newsman and author; and the Canadian Centennial by Mrs. Marianne Linnell, the only woman director of the Canadian Centennial Committee.

British journalism will be a topic for discussion by R. J. Burns of the British Information Service in Vancouver, and a panel discussion on retail advertising under moderator Cliff Hacker of the Abbotsford News are scheduled for October 28.

A highlight of the banquet will be the annual journalism awards issued by MacMillan Bloedel.

President of the B.C. Weekly Newspaper Association is Don Somerville, of the Oliver Chronicle and convention chairman is Ian Murray of the Alaska Highway News.

Train Schedule Changes Sunday

Effective Sunday, October 30, Canadian National Railways' passenger train schedules will be as follows:

The eastbound passenger train will arrive Terrace at 11:10 a.m. and leave at 11:20 a.m., daily except Sunday.

The westbound passenger train will arrive here at 4:25 p.m. and leave at 4:50 p.m., daily except Sunday.

Regular passenger train equipment, including day coaches, sleeping accommodation and dining facilities will continue to operate six days a week.

The roof of the German pavilion at Expo 67 will be a net made of steel mesh. It will be supported by steel poles, unequal in height and evenly spaced, giving it an appearance of undulating waves. A plastic underlay will keep out the rain.

TOMORROW-BUILDER

A boy builds a logging road. A game of make-believe. Over mountains and through forests with his big yellow tractor. It's as real to him as life-size logging roads are to Finning. For Finning supplies and services the giant crawler tractors you see at work in B.C.'s ever-growing forests. The familiar yellow Caterpillar-built machines. Opening up the way to greater prosperity. Could be your boy and Finning will tomorrow-build together some day.

Howard Suggests '67 Shinplaster

"Bring back the 'shinplaster'" says Frank Howard, M.P. for Skeena. Mr. Howard in a letter to Finance Minister Sharp yesterday asked the Finance Minister to issue the shinplaster as part of Canada's commemoration of its 100th birthday next year.

The word shinplaster is a colloquialism for the fractional currency which Canada issued in 1870, 1900 and 1923 in the denomination of 25 cents.

The original of the word shinplaster is not known for certain. The original shinplaster was a curative plaster made of known brown paper and covered with tar and vinegar. It was applied to a sore shin. It is speculated that the United States fractional currency was considered worthless during and after the American Revolution and thereby earned the association of having a value equal to the medicinal shinplaster.

The Swiss have been entrusted with the job of keeping time throughout Expo 67. The Time Centre at the Swiss pavilion will transmit "Expo Time" to a dozen watch towers and to 70 public clocks on the site.

Looking Back . . .

15 YEARS AGO

From the files of the Terrace "Omineca" Herald:

AUGUST 1951 SURPRISE ARRIVAL

There was a new business sign on Lakelse Avenue Tuesday morning announcing the presence of the bank of Nova Scotia. Tuesday morning pedestrians and local business people were interested in the efforts of workmen engaged in moving a large safe into the office space adjacent to the Terrace Meat Market and most of the on-lookers were surprised to learn that the place was to house Terrace's second bank.

According to announcement in the daily press, the formal signing by representatives of the contractors and the Aluminum Company of Canada took place in Montreal of a contract said to be valued at around $50,000,000 for work at the Kitimat project.

The contract covers building a complete townsite, a smelter, harbour dredging and dock facilities.

Tourist accommodation that will involve the outlay of approximately $50,000 according to owners, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pauluk, are in the process of construction along the highway just off of the High School. (Blue Gable)

SEPTEMBER 1951

The school term has opened. There were 75 high school students registered on opening with more to come. At the end of the last term the roll called 53 pupils.

Attendance rise at the elementary school was not so spectacular but was substantially better from 360 pupils last term to 400 on the first day of this new term.

A wedding of wide district interest took place at Usk on Sunday, August 11 when Max Helene Adams, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Adams, Usk, was united in marriage to William Hugh McRae, son of James McRae of Skeena Crossing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman, Vancouver, arrived in town at the end of last week to take up residence. Mr. Chapman has been the mechanical staff of the Omineca Herald.

Installation is expected to be completed this weekend of 10 two-way radios in Columbia district pick-up trucks and the company's working landings.

With slightly over three months to go building permits issued by the Municipal office total a little more than $120,000. Last year total for the 12 month period was just over $151,000.

In an effort to cope with increased long distance calls local the Government Telegraph and Telephone Service has installed a small switchboard that will handle long distance phone calls exclusively.

The bank of Nova Scotia's new branch at Terrace is under the management of R.C. Sandover, who comes to Terrace from Vancouver where he was with the supervisor's department of the bank.

OCTOBER 1951

Whitney Lewis of the Columbia Cellulose Company at Prince Rupert spent a week hunting in the Terrace area with Steve Tomes of Rosswood and reports he got a moose as well as some feather game.

NOVEMBER 1951

The Canadian National Railway has completed construction of a rail spur at West Kalum for the Columbia Cellulose Company and loading of logs from this point has commenced.

The new Kinsmen-sponsored community ambulance had its first call late Thursday afternoon when it was used to bring an injured worker from the airport to Terrace hospital.

Another page in Terrace's development will be written tonight when officials of the Red Cross Society in British Columbia meet over the Terrace Red Cross hospital to Terrace and District Hospital Association.

DECEMBER 1951

Charlie Adam, proprietor of the Tillicum Theatre, while host of a group of friends at dinner at the Motel, announced his engagement to Mrs. Susie Heinsch, a native of Holland who came to Canada a year and a half ago.

A major attraction of the Canadian pavilion at Expo 67 will be "Uki," a two-headed moose about 30 feet long, which will emerge from the water, breathe fire and smoke every hour the work of Sculptor Gerald Stone of Toronto.

Glamorize your home with convenience

Of all the things you can do to improve your home, nothing adds so much for so little as a colored extension telephone. It saves you thousands of steps a year, gives you privacy when required, brings that glamorous modern note to any room in your house. And the cost is only a few pennies per day!

AN EXTENSION FOR YOUR TEEN-AGER can bring important fringe benefits for you, too! Teenagers being the talkingest people in the world, you solve at one stroke the problem of having to listen to them endlessly. Also, teenagers save you a lot of steps by answering the phone automatically, every single time it rings. A well-mannered teen is almost as good as having a butler to take your calls!

BUSY MOTHERS, BABIES AND KITCHENS go together naturally with a Speakerphone extension. At the flick of a switch your hands become free again—you listen over the compact loudspeaker and talk back over the sensitive microphone. Meanwhile, carry on giving Junior his formula, preparing the dinner or mixing the cake. In fact, the Speakerphone makes kitchen calls a piece of cake every time!

HOBBY SHOP PROJECTS are a demanding and often intricate affair which should never, NEVER be interrupted! No more rushing upstairs or into another room when the phone rings. Take the call the modern way, and still concentrate on that important work-bench project. Find out more about these glamorous low-cost home aids TODAY, without obligation, from your B.C. TEL Business Office.

BURGERS . . . CHUCKWAGON STYLE — GOOD CANADIAN AUTUMN EATING

Whether you're catering to the chuckwagon 'outfit' in the recreation area or at the "clubhouse", hearty ground beef fun sandwiches will save day when autumn chow times roll around. The meat mixture is red-up with chili powder and green and red peppers, and the hot burger buns or enriched bread slices make handy carriers for the "please" younger set.

1 cup (1 pound) ground beef
1 cup soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon chopped red peppers
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 cup milk
5 hamburger or sandwich buns
Combine ground beef, soft bread crumbs, green and red pepper, salt, chili powder and milk. Mix well and shape into 6 meat patties, using about 1/3 cup per patty. Grill meat patties, turning to brown on both sides. Serve in hot buns.

Note: Chuckwagon Burgers are moderately hot in flavour. If very highly seasoned 'burgers are desired, double the amount of peppers and chili powder. For a milder flavoured mixture, decrease these same ingredients.

ROYAL CANADIAN LEGION

Dispatch

by Paul Begelund

The next two weeks will probably be the most taxing and interesting weeks in the history of Branch No. 13.

In chronological order:

Tuesday, November 1st — Executive meeting.

Saturday, November 5th — Poppy Day.

Sunday, November 6th — Unveiling and dedication of Cenotaph.

Tuesday, November 8th — General Meeting of the Branch.

Friday, November 11th — Armistice Day Parade with service at Cenotaph, followed by Armistice Dance at Civic Centre in the evening.

According to the chairman of the Poppy Day Committee, all preparations for the day are in hand — good weather and public support could well make this one of the biggest and best for many years. As in years past, Branch No. 13 will sponsor an Armistice Day Essay Contest, for students in both Junior and Senior High School. In addition to cash prizes, local winners will be entered in the Zone contest from which the winners may proceed through Command to the Dominion contest, each step of the way awarded with cash prizes to the winners.

Unveiling and dedication of the Cenotaph will take place on Sunday, November 6th at 2:00 p.m. We hope to have as many veterans as possible attend the service as well as detachments from both the Prince Rupert and Kitimat branches. The service and ceremony is open to all and we would welcome as many as can possibly attend.

The Armistice Day Parade will start at the Legion Hall and proceed along Lakelse Avenue to the Cenotaph, at the Municipal Building.

We have been assured that the Armistice Day service will be attended by the Honorable Arthur Laing, Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development, who will represent the Federal Government at Terrace's first Cenotaph service.

Older veterans who may feel that the march will tax them a bit too much may join the parade at the Cenotaph. Full program will be issued later.

The Armistice Dance in the Civic Centre will start at 9:00 p.m. on Friday, the 11th and will feature the Royal Canadian Engineers Band, formerly of Chilliwack, now of Esquimalt. Supper will be served by arrangements of the Ladies Auxiliary — and there will be a bar.

Tickets are by advance sale only and will be available at the Legion hall at the beginning of next week.

That's all for now folks — see you next week.

OBITUARY

MRS. LEN GRIFFITH,
Ocean Falls, B.C.

Word was received this morning of the passing of Mrs. Len Griffith of Ocean Falls, the former Frances Dover of Terrace.

Mrs. Griffith died in Ocean Falls hospital on Sunday, October 23, following a lengthy illness.

The deceased spent her girlhood in Terrace, having gone through school here. In 1940 she went to live in Ocean Falls where she met and married Len Griffith.

She is survived by her husband; three sons, Brian, Peter and Allen; a daughter Betty Kay; her mother Mrs. Dover in Listowell, Ontario; a sister, Mrs. Jean Woodrow of Toronto and a brother, George, living in the southern B.C. Interior.

Funeral services are being held today in Ocean Falls.

In 1955 teacher salaries in B.C. ranged from $25 to $135 a month, with most teachers earning $50.

CONCERT FRIDAY

All In Readiness For Basso Rubes

Basso Jan Rubes, one of Canada's most popular stars in opera, recital, as soloist with symphony orchestras and in film, radio and television is the featured performer in the opening concert of the Terrace Overture Concert Association season, scheduled for Friday evening, October 28.

The concert begins at 8:30 p.m. in the Terrace Community Centre and admission will be through membership subscription only. Memberships will be available at the door.

Mr. Rubes will be accompanied by Harold Brown at the piano. His program includes 10 features among which are Verdi's "The Wounded Heart," Schubert's "To Music," Schumann's "The Two Grenadiers" and Mussorgsky's "Prayer and Death of Boris" from the opera Boris Godunov. Also included are a group of Dvorak's gypsy selections from the cycle "The Gypsy Songs," several folk-songs made popular by Mr. Rubes on his radio program, "Songs of My People" heard over the CBC for ten years, and some known

Lady Curlers Begin Season

The regular fall meeting of the Ladies Curling Club was held in the Elk's Hall on Tuesday, October 25th. The meeting, which was preceded by a delicious pot luck supper, was enjoyed by all.

Prizes for best "made-up" face went to Mrs. Dick Mason as most original, and to Mrs. Norman Booth for most comical.

Mrs. L. J. Noel was elected zone representative, an absence created by the transfer to Smithers of Miss Margaret Davidson.

Mrs. Jan McKinnon was the recipient of a past president's pin which was presented to her by president, Mrs. Frank Skidmore.

and less known songs of the "basso" repertory, selected from over 500 concert programs.

Following the performance, the audience will be invited to meet the performer at an informal coffee reception in the banquet room of the Community Centre.

Details of other concerts planned for the current Overture Concert season are now being finalized, and will be announced at a later date.

- announcement -

International Harvester Co. of Canada Ltd. are pleased to announce that arrangements have been finalized for the continuation of marketing International Motor Trucks and Farm and Industrial Equipment in the Terrace area.

On November 1, 1966, Messrs. Hugh McKinnon and Pat Boyle will succeed Lloyd Johnstone who has represented this area for the past 18 years and who has decided to retire from the equipment business.

Both Hugh McKinnon and Pat Boyle have been with our Company for the past 15 years and are presently in responsible positions as Branch Manager and Fleet Sales Supervisor at our Edmonton operation.

Our objective will be to provide the same efficient service and assistance to equipment users that has been the achievement of J. & M. Truck & Equipment during past years. We are also pleased that the same staff that has served you so well will continue under this new management.

Partyline . . .

Wishes for a speedy recovery go out to Mr. Steve Gregorash of Gregg's Lakelse store, who is a patient in Kitimat General Hospital.

An expression of appreciation is due the staff of the local Department of Highways who have worked diligently to maintain the streets and roads in Thornhill. Though their work may seem to go unobserved, it is appreciated by local residents. Our thanks to Mr. O'Toole and his staff.

Gigi and Gogo Win More Honors

Gigi and Gogo, an acrobatic ballerina and clown act, performed by Mrs. B. Glockner and Mrs. J. Komlos of Lakelse Lake Road, were the OORP Medalion Trophy winners at the tenth annual OORP Talent Show held at Smithers Saturday.

Mrs. Glockner and Mrs. Komlos with their comedy routine competed against 22 other entries, some of them winners in previous years.

Mrs. Glockner and Mrs. Komlos, who also won in the Terrace OORP Talent Show last February, have performed in a variety of church and benefit programmes in the area. They are now putting a new routine together to commemorate Canada's 100th birthday and will be performing in various Centennial celebrations during the coming year.

Mrs. Glockner, who instructs the weekly Keep Fit classes in Skeena Secondary school, was at one time in the entertainment field in Europe.

Magistrate's Court

The following convictions were made in Terrace Magistrate's Court before Magistrate C. J. Norrington:

Bertrand Beaulieu, driving while licence suspended, fined $175; William Harris for resisting arrest fined $150.

There were two convictions on liquor offences; one for driving without due care; 27 for speeding and minor traffic offences; two for causing a disturbance and one on a trucking offence.

Magistrate F. H. Adames presided for the following: David Monteith fined $250 for impaired driving and prohibited from driving for sixty days; P. Sawan fined $25 for assault and Marcel Thibodeau was sentenced to nine months for theft.

There were two traffic convictions and one for a trucking violation.

SLIGHTLY SOAKED . . .

(This bit of verse was contributed by Mr. J. LaCar. The author is unknown, but it was printed in a Kemano publication during the time of construction of the power site. It seemed most appropriate because of the inclement weather we have been experiencing lately.)

KEMANO WEATHER

It rained and rained and rained and rained, the average fall was well maintained.
And when the roads were just like bogs
it started raining cats and dogs.

Then after a drought of half an hour
there came a most refreshing shower.
And then most curious of all—a gentle rain began to fall.

Next day was also fairly dry except for a deluge from the sky.
And after that the rain set in.

Sunday School For Thornhill

The Sunday School program of the Thornhill Baptist Mission will now start at 6 p.m. Sundays at Thornhill School. Worship services will follow at 6:45 p.m.

Preparations are underway for a Halloween party sponsored by the Junior Sunday School class. All youngsters 9 to 12 years of age are invited to participate in the festivities, which will begin at Thornhill School at 2 p.m. Saturday, October 29.

Plans are now being formulated to organize a Community Junior Baptist Mission. The non-denominational choir will be trained and directed by Mr. Robert Spears. The choir hopes to participate in a variety of community programs.

Mr. Bob Dove, superintendent of Missions for Canadian Baptist work led a very successful work shop and discussion group on visitation outreach Friday, with members of both the Thornhill Mission and the Uplands Baptist Church participating.

Rummage Needed

The local Skeena Guide Association will hold a Rummage Sale November 5 in the Odd-fellows Hall from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Good rummage is needed and may be left at Loretta's Beauty Salon (near Art's Chevron) on River Drive or articles will be picked up by Mrs. Wyatt, phone 843-5033, or Mrs. Barton 843-5322.

Report from Parliament

by Frank
Howard
M.P.
(Skeena)

People can have any form of government that they desire ranging all the way from a rigid dictatorship to anarchy. And, of course, within the framework of a government structure it is possible to have plans and programs of many sorts.

Not too long ago, when the CCF was fighting an uphill battle for a National Health Plan, we were faced with all sorts of frightful names. Political opponents of a Health Plan, which included, Conservatives and Social Creditors, used to tell us as the State Medicine was. Presumably the words State Medicine were considered bad words and the application of them to the CCF would be bad for the CCF.

But times have changed. Now Liberals who fought tooth and nail against State Medicine (Medicare by another name) are all in favour of Medicare (State Medicine by another name), except they want it postponed for awhile — you know — it's a good idea, but not yet —

The Conservatives have almost a schizophrenic approach to Medicare. In one part of the country, depending upon the political climate, the Conservatives are against Medicare. In another part they are for Medicare. Somewhere else they might be for Medicare in a certain form. In still another part of the country they — but why go on.

The Social Creditors are likewise in a muddle. In Alberta Premier Manning has been able to create a feeling of opposition to any form of Medicare that doesn't help line the pockets of the private insurance companies. This, incidentally, has helped to develop the reasoning and attitude of the federal Conservatives from Alberta. In B.C. I think the Social Credit Government is in favour of Medicare.

In Quebec the situation takes on a different aspect. It reflects the vagueness of nationalism on a narrow scale. Many Quebec M.P.'s feel that we should have some system whereby the federal government would pay provincial governments not to have a Medicare program.

The New Democratic Party is clearly the only party which has a clear idea about Medicare. We want it brought into effect now. We want all Canada to be covered and this has always been our position.

Yes, people can have any form of government they want and any plans or programs within whatever systems exists. Who knows we may soon have Medicare with our form of government.

Microwave Network Almost Complete

Construction of B.C. Hydro's $9.5 million microwave network is virtually complete and the major part of the system is scheduled to be in operation by the end of the year.

The complex communications system utilizes 38 individual stations to transmit data and permit remote control of powerplants, transmission lines and substations throughout most of Hydro's integrated system.

Designed and built for B.C. Hydro by Collins Radio Company of Canada Ltd., the network is made up of four inter-connected component systems. It is expected that the microwave network will be expanded in the near future as Hydro's integrated transmission system continues to reach across the province.

The major element of the system is the $5.3 million main trunk line connecting Vancouver and Portage Mountain Dam on the Peace River. Following the same general route as the 500,000-volt, 574-mile Peace River powerline, the microwave connection cuts through the centre of the province forming the "backbone" of the new network.

Since work began on the main trunk project early in 1965, a total of 28 microwave stations have been built, most of them in rugged mountain country. Many of the stations are situated more than 6,000 feet above sea level.

Construction of the trunk line to Portage Mountain Dam was completed in late September, and the line is now undergoing acceptance testing. It is expected to be in operation by early November.

The second segment of the microwave network is the 130-mile-long spur line that connects the main trunk at Kelly Lake, near Clinton, to Vernon, where it terminates at a new control centre. Built at a cost of approximately $1.1 million, this spur was completed in mid-1966 and is already "on-line" providing remote control of a number of substations in the southern interior region.

Monitoring and remote control of two major substations and two thermal generation plants in the Lower Mainland is provided by a third microwave link. This four-hop chain of stations connects Hydro's Burrard Thermal Plant at Ioco, the Port Mann Generating Station, and Newell and Horne Payne Substations in Vancouver.

Built at a cost of approximately $600,000, the project will enter the final testing phase in early November.

The fourth component in the network is the soon to be completed microwave connection that will link both terminals of the submarine power interconnection to Vancouver Island, as well as Victoria and Nanaimo. This project is expected to be completed by the end of 1966, and begin operation early in 1967.

Each of the four component microwave links terminates at Hydro's new control centre now under construction on top of Burnaby Mountain, near Vancouver. At this focal, a single operator will ultimately be to control the water-flow to turbines, adjust power output from every generating station, monitor electrical transmission disturbances and maintain voice communication throughout B.C. Hydro's integrated system.

A sturgeon 11 feet nine inches long and weighing 822 pounds was caught at Ladner's Landing near the mouth of the Fraser River October 2, 1967.

Terrace-Alice Arm Line Up For Bid

B.C. Hydro has invited tenders for a contract to construct a new 92-mile-long transmission line from Terrace north to Alice Arm in northwest British Columbia.

The new transmission line will be energized with power purchased by B.C. Hydro from Alcan's Kitimat power facilities.

The powerline will link the new Skeena Substation, seven miles west of Terrace, with the B.C. Hydro's head office in Vancouver.

Molybdenum mining operation will start weather permits next spring. The transmission line will be built to 138,000-volt standard and will be energized initially at 000-volts. It is scheduled to be in service by September, 1967.

Bids on the contract close noon, Tuesday, October 25 at west of Terrace, with the B.C. Hydro's head office in Vancouver.

KITMAT AND KEMANO TODAY — (Part I)

From Heyday Into History...

—by Ruth M. Hallock

A tour of Kitimat today is much different from one of the 1950s. Gone are the busy scenes of construction and the hundreds of men, who often walked to work, eight abreast along the Smeltersite Highway.

Gone is the gigantic messhall at Anderson Creek where the noon whistle once produced thousands of hungry people, at once, and all on the run.

Today, Kitimat is settled, quiet, except for the normal traffic sounds and the noises of children at play. Kitimat now presents a picture of stability and permanence to the visitor. Already a new generation is becoming impatient to take its place in one of the most amazing industrial developments ever created by man.

TOO YOUNG FOR HISTORY

There are some, like myself, who remember the early development stages. That doesn't make old fogies because Kitimat and Kemano are still very new. They are communities with immediate roots, rather than fabulous histories. Historically, they will come to their own after time has moved another forty years to pass by. Then, those of us who were around at the beginning will be able to say to our grandchildren, "Yep, sonny I was there, way back when there was nothing but a bunch of rotting trees and a wet jungle."

Those of us who saw Vanderhoof blossom from a sleepy little lumber and farming town into a busy, boisterous construction supply centre for the Kenney Dam project, will have a colorful story to tell. Those of us who knew Burns Lake during the tunnel driving days when heavy drilling equipment roared through that town on its way to Tahtsa, will also have a story to tell; and those of us who knew the early Kitimat and the early Kemano will have many tales for the telling.

STORIES CONTINUE

But the stories do not end with the pioneering days of the Alcan project. They continue today as the main communities of Kitimat and Kemano grow and thrive with each new expansion of their mother industry.

In Kitimat almost 3,000 people work for Alcan and take home a monthly payroll of over one and a half million dollars.

The total population of Kitimat is close to 10,000 and the community is planned to accommodate many more. With continual expansion at the Alcan smelter and with the introduction of new industry to the area it is conceivable that Kitimat could ultimately swell to the city of 50,000 predicted by planning pundits and politicians when the whole complex was still but a dream for the selling.

ALCAN A-GO-GO

Last Thursday and Friday I was a guest of the Aluminum Company of Canada on what is known in our business as a "press tour" of the Kitimat works and the Kemano power plant. Only Alcan knows how to do the "press tour" bit properly. They see to it that everyone is comfortably, well-fed and constantly engaged in some interesting project during the time allotted.

We met on Thursday for lunch — there were twelve of us, eleven men and this reporter, which gave the Herald a bit of a head start. Following lunch we were shown the excellent film, Kitimat — Port to the World, which many of us had seen previously but which is always interesting to review. Then came what one can only describe as an "inside tour" of the plant. We were not whisked mat, through the yards and past the buildings in a bus. We were taken on a walking tour of the works which included a visit to the potlines; to potline 7b currently under construction, and scheduled to open next year; to the main control room where the power from Kemano is re-distributed to perform its various major functions; and into the casting department where huge furnaces ready the aluminum for pouring into casting vessels and where ingots, rings and long aluminum poles are born. Following this, we were taken to the Alcan docks as well as to the Municipal dock where we could view the foreshore properties optioned by Samuel Williams (B.C.) Limited for an eventual port development.

"HELLO" SAYS COMPUTER

The Thursday tour was capped off by a chat with Alcan's new IBM computer which had been programmed to say hello to us, ask about our backgrounds and wish us welcome. This marvellous machine, decked out in bright blue and business-like grey, with flashing red, green, amber and blue lights and a myriad of mysterious keys and buttons, is about as close to being human as a machine can get. Perhaps in some respects it might be termed superior to man, inasmuch as its every action is carefully programmed whereas man himself is impulsive and often catastrophe-prone. (There's no telling what happens when the "machine" suddenly gets a screw loose!)

Q and A SESSION

After dinner at Nechako Lodge, press, radio and television guests met with representatives from every department of the Alcan works.

A two-hour question and answer session produced some interesting information about the Aluminum Company of Canada. One of the major points raised was the question of automation in the plant. It was learned that Alcan, like all other major companies is constantly trying to upgrade its operation through training programs and re-training schemes, and that generally computers and continued mechanization is expected to create no manpower cutbacks.

D. Morris, personnel manager, told of long range plans for re-training employees to do more intricate jobs, and of recruiting abroad for skilled craftsmen to take over positions requiring more knowledge. G. McLeod, systems co-ordinator, pointed out that use of the computer in various departments often created extra jobs thus demanding more employees.

E. W. McKernan, manager of B.C. Power operations for Alcan told us of the eventual tie-in with Peace power on a grid system which will send power to spare surging into Terrace, Prince Rupert, Smithers and Stewart. He also gave press-types a brief preview of things to come on Friday when we were scheduled to make a flight to Kemano for a look at Generator No. 8.

TURN OF TABLES

A. "Mac" Handford, public relations officer for Alcan in Kitimat, was our host and he didn't let any of us get the upper hand. In fact before the Thursday evening session was over he had press, radio and television reps on the receiving end of the questioning process. He and his colleagues drilled Terrace representatives about the timber operations in this area. They asked Prince Rupert people about housing in that community and they asked Smithers people about the latest development regarding a pulp mill for that region.

We wasted no time getting to bed at the close of the session because seven a.m. was listed as take-off time and nobody wanted to miss that Kemano flight. But that's another story and I'll cover that one next week.

Letters to the EDITOR

The Editor, Terrace Herald:
Our Finance Minister, Mr. Sharp, is making pointed remarks regarding a "recession."

The same idea invaded the very same Toronto street back in the 1930's. And it worked then, even as it could work now — if ALL the representatives of the general public do not step in and put a stop to it.

In the 1930's, all the money of Canada was controlled from the very same spot where this man Sharp is now lurking, and he is well aware of it.

The life of the Canadian economy depends on the free circulation of money, exactly as our own life depends upon the free circulation of blood.

Money is the life of trade and if the circulation should be interrupted — it means a sure depression.

Something should be done to interrupt the controls from James Street and make it possible for the lifeblood of the business world to circulate freely.

We refer to Sharp as a Finance Minister — he is nothing more than a "CREPE HANGER" and his miserable attempt to stampede us into a recession should be rounded up at once.

In 1930, the money was cornered in the same spot, and there was no life in the whole country until it was released from there.

There was no need of any recession in 1930, and there is no need now. THE MONEY WAS IN EXISTENCE THEN AND IT IS IN EXISTENCE TODAY!

People who arrange, or TRY to arrange money shortages, should face some form of criminal charge.

The money was "cornered" in 1930. They are trying the same stunt today. Let it circulate.

Ray Baxter.

GUIDE, BROWN RANGER NEWS

The monthly meeting of Skeena District Guiding Association was held on October 18 at the home of D. K. Kerr.

There was a good attendance at the meeting which helped "work bee" as all took part sorting out rags for the "drive."

The meeting was chaired by Mrs. Kerr. It was decided to November 25 as a tentative date for a pie and coffee social to be held in Knox United Church from 7:30 to 9 p.m. A special tation will be extended to parents and friends of Guides and Brownies to attend the affair. Guides leaders will be asked to attend to meet parents. Guides will assist in serving. A nominal charge will be made, the proceeds to go to the association. Convener is Betty Hemmons assisted by E. Benoit, Mrs. N. Morrison, Mrs. A. Both. A rummage sale planned for November 5 in Oddfellows' Hall from 1:30 to 4:30. Mrs. Stan Barton will be as convener.

The next meeting of the Association will be held on November 15.

Prior to Confederation, British Columbia levied its own tax. Duty was paid on a wide variety of goods ranging from 15¢ on a gallon of ale to $3.00 head of beef cattle.

Weekly Sermon

Humour and exaggeration are often used to underscore a deep truth and Jesus, as Elton Trueblood has pointed out, was a master craftsman of the technique. There is no better illustration of this than his comment which is a part of what we call his Sermon on the Mount — "Why do you see the speck that is in your neighbor's eye, but do not notice the log that is in your own eye? Or how can you say to your brother, "Let me take the speck out of your eye," when there is a log in your own eye? You hypocrite, first take the log out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to take the speck out of your brother's eye." Both the humour and the exaggeration are obvious, to those who heard him speak there must have been a few chuckles and perhaps a bit of squirming. There has always been, it seems, a few or many who are very quick to see the faults of other people. Jesus, of course, was probably directing his comment and question to the people who were known as the Pharisees — men who were sharply critical of those who failed in some speck of religious law while they themselves were guilty of log-like faults of self-pride and self-righteousness. But modern instances are not too hard to come by. Perhaps we can remember well the person who, posing as a friend, approached us with firm step and determined manner and opened the conversation something like this: Now look here, what I want to say is for your own good . . . Psychology has adopted a word that it uses for most of these situations — TRANSFER — which is simply the art by which we can concentrate on our neighbor's faults and thus avoid looking at our own. We may even enjoy correcting other people's faults because the exercise gives us such feelings of virtue that serve to cover up those things within ourselves that we would rather not face. Perhaps all this is the reason behind the fact that the world, for the most part, has looked with questioning eyes upon the reformer while it has loved the saint. And perhaps the world has been right, for while the reformer is generally intent up the sins of his neighbors, the saint is concerned with his own. In the final analysis what most of us need most of all, is not criticism but understanding, not self-righteous advice but self-emptying love.

Legion Ladies Give Quarter-Million

The Ladies Auxiliaries to branches of Pacific Command, Royal Canadian Legion, disbursed $278,561.28 last year.

The annual report shows 8,106 members in good standing at 158 branches collected a total of $313,302.44.

Donations to branches alone accounted for $98,759.24, and ranged from cash to building funds, bond redemption, furnishings scholarships and sports activities.

The many hours of voluntary service work will never be assessed but 15,196 hospital visits are recorded and 790 social service calls were made.

Add to the above layettes, overseas parcels of goods and clothing with donations, wheelchairs, books, socks, afghans, slippers, and you get some idea of the continuing support the L.A. gives to the aims and objects of the Legion.

The L.A. does not confine itself only to the veterans. More than twenty organizations, outside the Legion such as Scouts, Guides and Cubs, Red Cross, Heart Foundation, Old Age pensioners. Missions and Handicapped children all come in the list of donations.

Your community looks to the Legion Ladies Auxiliary for this support and is rarely let down.

When Vancouver Island and British Columbia were both crown colonies, they issued their own postage stamps. Most were destroyed at the time of Confederation and those surviving today are highly prized.

Lions Ladies Present Cheque

Terrace Lions' Ladies held an annual meeting Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Dave Porter, president of the club. Special guest of the evening was Mr. Allen Cowen, executive secretary for the B.C. Society for Crippled Children.

New Stamp Vending Machine

The Canada Post Office is pleased to announce the introduction of a new improved Stamp Vending Machine.

The new machine is a coin actuated model as distinguished from the earlier manual and electric models. While retaining the best features of its forerunners, the new machine has many improvements designed to make it more attractive and easier to operate. At the same time, the probability of mechanical failure has been reduced with the provision of permanently lubricated working parts. The dimensions are unchanged from the former series.

The cabinet proper is constructed of steel with baked on enamel in a rich carmine red finish. The front of the machine is of aluminum plate with attractive black satin (anodized) finish. With its contrasting bright chrome fittings and long clean simple lines, the machine is as attractive as it is functional.

The new machine is operated by the insertion into a slot of a 25c piece (Canadian or U.S.A.) which actuates the mechanism and releases a booklet of stamps. There is no handle to pull and no dependence on electric power.

Each booklet contains full value in stamps being made up of 5 four-cent stamps and 5 one-cent stamps. The handy booklet for pocket or purse is a bonus feature.

The Stamp Vending Machine is believed to be the only one of its type that will operate under severe weather conditions. It has undergone extensive field trials and severe laboratory testing and responded satisfactorily under simulated extremes ranging from -35° to -100°. Production has been the result of close liaison between technicians of the Canada Post Office and designers of a well known Canadian firm.

Replacement of the existing models by the new coin actuated model will be a gradual process.

FLECTO Varathane

EVERYONE WELCOME

for the B.C. Society for Crippled Children.

The Society film "Hope for Tomorrow," showing the Easter Seal buses, Chehalis Camp and various patient-assistance services, was shown to the group. An informal discussion about the Society and the Easter Seal Appeal followed.

Mr. Cowen thanked the club, on behalf of the Society, for their assistance in handling the appeal for the past three years in the Terrace area. He was very pleased with the enthusiasm of the small group and pointed out that Terrace placed 4th highest, in the amount per returned envelope, of the 68 sponsoring clubs throughout the province. During the last appeal, returns totalled $740.00 in the Terrace area.

Mr. Cowen also discussed with the ladies, the Ogopogo Ranch, a ranch-style camp for crippled children to be built near Kelowna. Promotion and fund raising came to a standstill when a new site had to be located for the Ranch. The new site, which will solve many problems and extra building costs for roads, power and accessibility to a large centre, has been found and plans are to have the camp opened next summer.

Donations for the Ranch would be gratefully accepted and can be sent to Mrs. Lionel Sears, cheques payable to the Society.

Terrace Lions' Ladies have raised funds for the Ranch through various service groups and businesses in the Terrace-Kitimat area. A cheque was presented to Mr. Cowen, bringing the total donations to the Ranch fund from this area to $712. Mr. Cowen again thanked the ladies and expressed the wish that all groups sponsoring the appeal could show the same interest and enthusiasm towards the activities of the society.
